

RE-TOP

When there is too much cracking and extensive repair, it is more cost effective to remove the loose rubber, patch, and install a new wear course. In most cases, a small layer of cushion material is required to provide a smoother, more stable surface for the new wear course.

After the damaged areas were removed and new rubber was installed this surface looks new again.